101 and counting: Linda Plett celebrates a lifetime of grit, good memories

Your daily news & news for 127 years

By Susan Fisher

The 101st birthday of Linda Plett is a milestone worth celebrating. She has lived through the Great Depression, World War II, and the civil rights movement. She has seen the rise and fall of many presidents and has lived through the most difficult times in our nation's history. But she has also lived through the most wonderful times, and she is still here, still smiling, still full of life.

Linda Plett was born in 1913 in the small town of Liberal, Kansas. She grew up in a family of farmers and was the oldest of five children. She attended the local school and graduated in 1931. She then worked for a few years before getting married to her husband, Earl Plett, in 1934. They had four children together.

Linda and Earl moved to Garden City, Kansas, in 1940. She worked for the local newspaper and then for the local school system. She was a very active member of the community and was involved in many organizations. She was a member of the Garden City Chamber of Commerce and the Garden City Historical Society. She was also a member of the Garden City Senior Center.

Linda Plett is a very accomplished woman. She has a degree in education from the University of Kansas and has worked as a teacher for many years. She has also worked in various other fields, including retail and administrative work. She is a very hardworking and dedicated person.

Linda Plett is a very kind and generous person. She has always been willing to help others in need and has been a very active member of the Garden City Senior Center. She has also been a very active member of the Garden City Historical Society and has helped to preserve the history of the city.

Linda Plett is a very accomplished woman and a very kind and generous person. She has lived through the most difficult times in our nation's history and has emerged as a strong and resilient woman. She is a true inspiration to all of us and we are very fortunate to have her in our community.
