Tornado shelters face dilemma with pet lovers

LEADERSHIP
LAWRENCE
A dog named Ruby is being held in a shelter in Lawrence, Kan., as the city prepares for a possible tornado. The dog's owner, a woman who lives in the city, is trying to get her pet out of the shelter. The shelter is full of animals, and the city is trying to find homes for them. The shelter is a dilemma for pet lovers who want to keep their pets safe during a disaster.

2 men drop their federal lawsuit over Kansas voter ID law

Two men have dropped their federal lawsuit over the Kansas voter ID law. The lawsuit was filed in federal court in Lawrence, Kan., and was challenging the law that requires voters to show a photo ID at the polls. The men argued that the law violated the Constitution. However, they have now decided to drop the lawsuit.
