

Crimes stats down in Liberal
Jeep trimmed in pink
Barrs celebrate breast cancer survival
Unsung Heroes
Will tomorrow's farmers be able to feed 9 billion people by 2050?
Whale washes up in New Jersey, gets graffiti tag
4-H kids, volunteers clean up at Arkalon

LEADER & TIMES
SUNDAY MAY 4, 2014
Your daily news & views for 125 years

Kansas lawmakers wrap up year's business, adjourn

TOPEKA, Kan. — Kansas legislators have adjourned for the year, wrapping up a session that produced a record number of bills. The House adjourned at 11:30 a.m. Monday, May 5, after a day of legislative business. The Senate adjourned at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, May 6, after a day of legislative business. The session was the longest in the state's history, lasting 125 days and 10 hours.

Kansas legislators vote to open police records

TOPEKA, Kan. — Kansas legislators have approved a bill that would require law enforcement agencies to release certain police records to the public. The bill, known as H.R. 1000, was passed by the House on Monday and by the Senate on Tuesday. It would require agencies to release records within 30 days of a request, unless the records are exempt under the state's public access law.

Traffic stop leads to dozens of stolen weapons

TOPEKA, Kan. — A traffic stop in Lawrence, Kan., led to the discovery of dozens of stolen weapons. Police officers stopped a vehicle on Monday, May 4, and found a large quantity of firearms and other weapons in the trunk. The weapons were believed to be stolen from various locations in the area. The case is currently being investigated by the Lawrence Police Department.

Green energy rule for Kan. utilities survives

TOPEKA, Kan. — Kansas legislators have approved a bill that would require utilities to meet a certain percentage of their energy needs from renewable sources. The bill, known as H.R. 1000, was passed by the House on Monday and by the Senate on Tuesday. It would require utilities to meet 15% of their energy needs from renewable sources by 2020. The bill is expected to be signed into law by the governor.

Kansas budget measure goes to governor

TOPEKA, Kan. — A bill that would require the state to reduce its budget by a certain percentage has been passed by the legislature. The bill, known as H.R. 1000, was passed by the House on Monday and by the Senate on Tuesday. It would require the state to reduce its budget by 1% for each year from 2015 to 2018. The bill is expected to be signed into law by the governor.