Seward County Health Dept. can help with vaccines for people of all ages

By Bill Green

As part of its commitment to providing comprehensive health care to all citizens, the Seward County Health Department is offering immunization services to the community.

Immunizations are one of the most effective ways to prevent illness and protect the health of the community. The Health Department offers a wide variety of vaccines for all ages, from infants to the elderly. These vaccines help prevent serious diseases and complications.

The Health Department's immunization services are provided at no cost to eligible residents. To schedule an appointment, call 781-362-3333 or visit the Health Department's website at www.sewardcountyhealth.com.

Pregnant women gain new options under health law

By Bill Green

Under the new health law, pregnant women will have more options when it comes to choosing their doctors and hospitals. The law allows pregnant women to stay with their preferred doctor and hospital, even if that doctor or hospital is not in the same network as the woman's health plan.

This change is a significant step toward ensuring that pregnant women and their babies receive the highest quality of care. It also gives women more control over their healthcare decisions.
