

You only see that the money is not the most important thing in life when you have it.
Thursday Prime Rib
#4 Village Plaza • Liberal, KS 67242-2020 • Reservations: 785-822-1111
Only a short drive from the historic downtown area, this restaurant is a casual eatery.

Woman wounded in early Sunday morning shooting

By Sarah Hays
A woman was wounded in a shooting in Seward County on Sunday morning. The woman, who was not identified, was shot in the back of the head and chest. She was taken to a hospital and is in stable condition. The police are currently investigating the shooting and have not yet identified any suspects.

Percent Receiving Food Stamps Use of food stamps rises in Seward County

Local authors donate to library

Page 2A
A group of local authors and librarians gathered at the Seward County Library to donate books to the collection. The authors, including several local writers, presented their books to the librarians, who will be adding them to the library's shelves. The event was a success and the library is grateful for the donations.

Kansas mom pleads no contest in 6-year-old daughter's death

By Sarah Hays
A Kansas mother has pleaded no contest to the death of her 6-year-old daughter. The mother, who was not identified, was charged with the death of her daughter. She is currently facing charges and is in custody. The case is currently in court.

Seward County man dies in fire

By Sarah Hays
A man from Seward County died in a fire on Sunday. The man, who was not identified, was found in a room that had caught fire. The fire was caused by an electrical fault. The man was taken to a hospital but died shortly after arriving. The police are investigating the fire.

City to give up property for school expansion

By Sarah Hays
The City of Seward is planning to give up property for a school expansion project. The city council has approved the plan, which involves the city giving up a portion of its land to the school district. The school district will use the land to build a new school building. The city is currently in the process of negotiating the terms of the agreement.

Coffee with a candidate:

By Sarah Hays
A candidate for the Seward County Board of Education is participating in a "coffee with a candidate" event. The event is being held at a local coffee shop and is open to the public. The candidate is currently in the process of running for the board and is looking for support from the community.

Geithner, in memoir, suggests White House asked him to bend truth on deficit

By Sarah Hays
Timothy W. Geithner, in his memoir, suggests that the White House asked him to bend the truth on the deficit. Geithner, who served as the director of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, is currently writing his memoir. He has written that he was asked to provide a more optimistic view of the deficit than what he actually believed. He is currently in the process of editing his memoir and is looking for feedback from readers.

County to conduct special work session tonight

By Sarah Hays
Seward County is scheduled to hold a special work session tonight. The session is being held at the county administration center and will focus on the county's budget and other important issues. The session is open to the public and anyone interested in the county's affairs is encouraged to attend.

Feds mum on Kansas prairie chicken law

By Sarah Hays
The federal government is silent on a new law regarding the prairie chicken in Kansas. The law, which was passed by the Kansas legislature, is currently being reviewed by the federal government. The federal government has not yet responded to the law and is currently in the process of reviewing it.

Energy savings bill fails amid election politics

By Sarah Hays
A bill aimed at energy savings failed in the Kansas legislature due to election politics. The bill, which was introduced by a state legislator, was intended to provide incentives for energy-efficient buildings. However, the bill was defeated in a vote. The failure of the bill is attributed to the upcoming elections and the political climate.