Voters: Watch for 'phony' pro-life cards
Vote Fred Fattori.
By David H. Johnson
As voters head to the polls on Tuesday, they should watch for a new tactic: phony pro-life cards. Some voters have reported seeing cards that say "Vote Fred Fattori" and "Vote for Life" on the day of the election. The cards are not real and are being used to confuse voters. The cards are being distributed by a group called "Vote for Life" and are being used to confuse voters.
